Thanks for checking out my little guide on free activities in Berlin!

This is NOT a guide for tourists, but for people who stay in Berlin and are interested in cultural events that happen on a regular basis as well as some sites and places that you might not know yet. If you are interested in touristy sites, check out this map by Alison Garland.

All the activities and events I collected have no entrance fee, though you might have to pay for drinks at bars obviously. Some events are donation based and I highly encourage you to give.

If you find any mistakes, outdated information, or wish to add something, please email me at julia@socialbutterfly_berlin

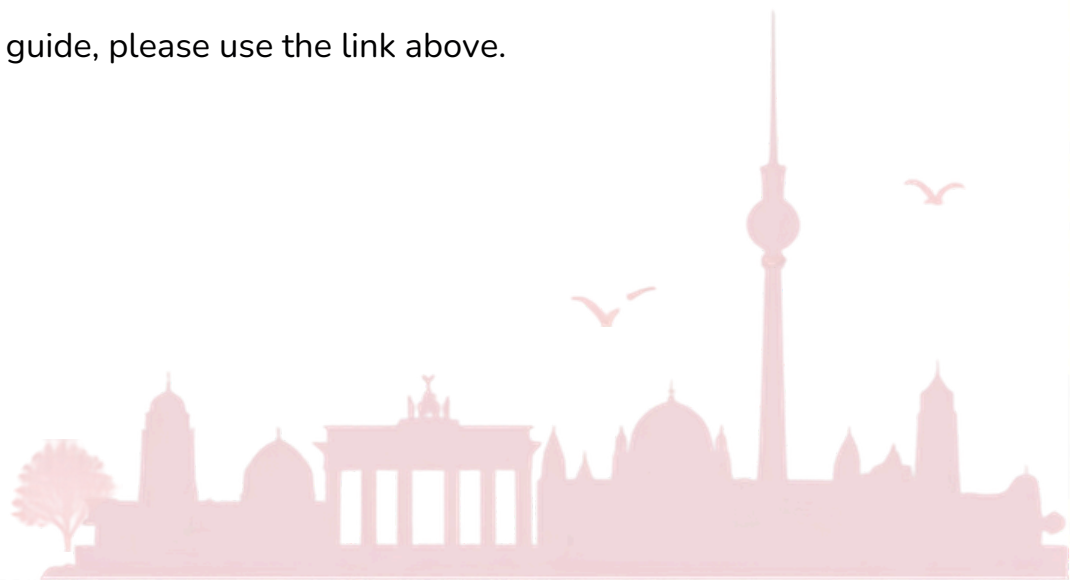

Don't forget to subscribe to the Social Butterfly Radar Newsletter, which will provide you with even more interesting event and activity suggestions on a regular basis.

If you want to share this guide, please use the link above.

Thank you!

Chapter 01

Let's start with Art!

Galleries & Art Museums

These galleries & art museums have generally a free admission:

- Fotogalerie Friedrichshain
- Kunstraum Kreuzberg Bethanien
- König Galerie
- Haus am Lützowplatz

Some museums offer free entry once a week:

- Palais Populaire: every Monday, 11am to 6pm
- KW Institute for Contemporary Art: every Thursday, 6 to 9 pm
- Neue Nationalgalerie: every Thursday, 4 to 8 pm

Street Art

I know you visited the East Side Gallery on your very first visit to Berlin, so don't ask me why I haven't included it ;)

Urban Nation

Every Day, except Mondays

10am-6pm/8pm

Urban Nation, Bülowstrasse 7, 10783 Berlin (Maps)

Urban Nation is the official Street Art Museum in Berlin or as they call it Urban Contemporary Art - and the entrance is free. If you walk the street of the museum up and down, you will find a lot of graffiti on both sides of the street, plus a vinyl records shop, if you fancy that.

<https://urban-nation.com/>

Haus Schwarzenberg

📍 Haus Schwarzenberg, Rosenthaler Str. 39, 10178 Berlin (Maps)

Haus Schwarzenberg is a backyard in Mitte that is covered with art. It is home to multiple venues, like bars, artists and a cinema and they even offer exhibitions.

Check the website for details:

<https://haus-schwarzenberg.org/>

RAW Gelände

📍 RAW Gelände, Revaler Str. 99, 10245 Berlin (Maps)

You know the RAW Gelände next to S+U Warschauer Straße for their clubs, concerts and nightlife, but during the daytime you can see all the street art that is located there.

Wrangelkiez in Kreuzberg

📍 Wrangelstraße, 10997 Berlin (Maps)

The Wrangelkiez around the Schlesisches Tor is famous for its street art. A stroll along this lively neighbourhood between Görlitzer Park and the banks of the River Spree is a must for any street art fan.

Mauerpark in Prenzlauer Berg

📍 Mauerpark, Bernauer Str. 63, 13355 Berlin (Maps)

One of the city's most famous spots for graffiti artists is the graffiti wall on the panoramic hill in Mauerpark where you can see new art on an almost daily basis.

Graffiti Wall of Fame in Friedrichshain

📍 Graffiti Wall of Fame, Niederbarnimstraße 15, 10247 Berlin (Maps)

A review on Google Maps says the following:

When you visit this place, you have to look a bit.

The originally painted house has been renovated. But there are plenty of works of art along the road. Or real pictures.

Give me more!

If your appetite for Street Art is not yet satisfied, you might want to do a guided Street Art tour (not free) or visit the Teufelsberg (not free).

Cinema

Filmmaker's Screenings

Open Screening at Sputnik Kino

Every 3rd Wednesday

8pm

Sputnik Kino, Hasenheide 54, 10967 Berlin (Maps)

Open Screening is a platform for filmmakers and film lovers and offers the perfect setting to "test" films for the first time in front of an audience, to get feedback, to simply make films accessible to the public or to make contacts with other filmmakers for future projects. From drama, comedy, music video, reportage, documentary, thriller to experimental film and beyond, every format and genre is possible.

<https://www.sputnik-kino.com/openscreening>

Silent Films

Silent Movie at Midnight

17 Every Saturday

Midnight

Babylon, Rosa-Luxemburg-Straße 30, 10178 Berlin (Maps)

A silent film series for night owls! EVERY SATURDAY

Admission is free, according to the motto ZERO o'clock - zero euro.

Live at the cinema organ, the Babylon organist Anna Vavilkina accompanies the silent films at the witching hour!

<https://babylonberlin.eu/programm/filmreihen/stummfilm/stummfilm-um-mitternacht>

Click this link to find all free films in Babylon:

<https://babylonberlin.eu/programm/eintritt-frei>

Silent Movie & Piano by Laufende Bilder e.V.

17 Every Wednesday

8.30pm (recommended to arrive an hour earlier)

Froschkönig, Weisestraße 17, 12049 Berlin (Maps)

Please note that this is a smoker's bar and access is only possible for adults older than 18.

Laufende Bilder e.V. was founded to bring the silent film back to life. We want to arouse curiosity about a unique form of art that has changed the way we perceive the world and has shaped the way we see it for hundreds of years. The films will be accompanied by live piano music.

<https://froschkoenig-berlin.de/stummfilm-piano>

Chapter 03

Free Concerts

Organ music at noon

Enjoy 15 minutes of organ music every weekday in one of the most famous churches of Berlin. I think it's super nice to drop in, when you are around.

Every Weekday

1pm

Kaiser-Wilhelm-Gedächtniskirche, Breitscheidplatz, 10789 Berlin (Maps)

Lunch Time Concerts at Luisenkirche

Join us every Thursday from 12:30 to 13:00 at the Luisenkirche (Gierkeplatz, Charlottenburg) for a lunchtime concert featuring a rotating roster of talented organists. Each week offers a unique performance, showcasing diverse styles and interpretations on the magnificent new Hans Reil organ, installed in 2024.

<https://www.luisenkirche.de/konzerte-veranstaltungen>

Every Thursday

12:30pm

Luisenkirche, Gierkeplatz, 10585 Berlin (Maps)

Lunch Concerts at Philharmonie

The programme lasts 40 to 50 minutes: often chamber music, piano works or a percussion duo – everything from Tchaikovsky to tango. As you would expect of a lunchtime concert, a catering service is also available which is of equal quality and value for money.

<https://www.berliner-philharmoniker.de/en/concerts/lunch-concerts/>

Every Wednesday from September - June

1pm

Philharmonie, Herbert-von-Karajan-Straße 1, 10785 Berlin (Maps)

Chapter 03

More Concerts

Jour Fixe at Musical Instrument Museum

Every other week the Musical Instrument Museum presents young musicians at a free concert. It is also on Wednesdays, so you could go to the Philharmonie for lunch and to the Musical Instrument Museum after, as it is the neighboring building.

<https://www.museumportal-berlin.de/de/veranstaltungen/jour-fixe-musik-am-nachmittag>

Every other Wednesday

3.30pm-5pm

Musikinstrumenten-Museum, Ben-Gurion-Straße, 10785 Berlin (Maps)

University of Arts

The students of the University of Arts often play free concerts as part of their studies. You can find all the dates on this website:

<https://www.udk-berlin.de/universitaet/fakultaet-musik/veranstaltungen/veranstaltungskalender/alle-veranstaltungen-fakultaet-musik>

Wild Wednesday

Discover Newcomer Rock Bands at Wild at Heart in Kreuzberg

Every Wednesday

9pm

Wild at Heart, Wiener Str. 20, 10999 Berlin (Maps)

Chapter 03

Music

Jam Sessions & Open Mics

There are so many Jam Sessions! On this website, you find all of them:

<https://berlinersessions.de/> Please note that I found some of the entries outdated, so make sure to double-check the venues before you go.

Some of my favorites are these:

Singer Songwriter Open Stage at Arcanoa

 Every Monday

 8pm

 Arcanoa, Am Tempelhofer Berg 8, 10965 Berlin (Maps)

Jam Session at KikiSol

KikiSol is one of my favorite bars in Wedding and the jam sessions are always well attended.

 Every Friday

 8pm

 KikiSol, Reinickendorfer Str. 96, 13347 Berlin (Maps)

Open Sofa Session

Another session in Wedding with poetry & original music hosted by Kilkelly.

 Every Friday

 7pm

 Hank Chinaski, Koloniestraße 32, 13359 Berlin (Maps)

Street Music

Street Music Hot Spots

- Warschauer Straße
- Alexanderplatz
- Hackescher Markt (on the side with the market as well as near the Spree/Museumsinsel)
- Mauerpark
- S Friedrichstraße

Chapter 03

a&o hostels

a&o hostels are organizing karaoke nights in various of their locations on a regular basis.

Check out their Eventbrite page for upcoming dates.

Chapter 04

Dance

If you are tired of learning choreographies from TikTok, I got you covered. Obviously most dance classes are not free, but I found some anyways.

Historical Dances

Every Tuesday

5.30-7pm & 7-8.30pm

Stadtteilzentrum Fabrik Osloer Straße, Osloer Str. 12, 13359 Berlin, Entrance A, 4th floor. (Maps)

Learn ballroom dances from the Renaissance and Baroque periods, and occasionally from the Middle Ages and the present day.

Donation based.

<https://ohher.de/Tanz.htm>

Contemporary

Open Training at Uferstudios

Every Sunday

11am

studio16, Uferstudios, Uferstraße 23, 13357 Berlin (Maps)

After a warm-up phase, a dynamic, powerful training leads us through the room, in which the focus shifts between different body parts, spatial levels, movement qualities and various styles and - almost as a side effect- stamina and endurance are activated.

In the last phase a collective improvisation takes place, including meditative, playful or also structured choreographic elements, its influences change depending on the trainer and the day.

Chapter 04

Dance

Folk Dances

Halay/Govend - Turkish/Kurdish Folk Dances

Every Monday

6pm-8pm

Kiez Zentrum Villa Lützow, Lützowstraße 28, 10785 Berlin (Maps)

A weekly Halay/Govend/Folkdance class for adults at Villa Lützow. The course is free and no previous experience is required!

Register via email: mustafaemre987@hotmail.com

GovendaKI - Kurdish Dance

Every Saturday

7pm-10pm

Mariannenarena/Sportanlage, Mariannenstraße 47, 10997 Berlin (Maps)

The group was founded in early 2012 by several people of different origins as a social-cultural initiative. Regularly every Saturday, the group meets from 7 pm to 10 pm. We learn traditional dances, especially from all regions of Kurdistan, but also dances of other oppressed and threatened people.

The group is of international composition: people originally from Kurdistan as well as from Syria, Turkey, Iraq, Iran, Afghanistan, Greece, Serbia, France and Germany participate as they want and need to - some of us come regularly others only from time to time. We also take part in dance performances or on solidarity events regarding various topics (for example donation collecting for hospitals and schools in the war zones of Syria) or simply dance in public places.

<https://www.govendaki.com/en>

Chapter 05

Movement is life! There are plenty of offers for outdoor activities that you can do alone or in a group. Please find some free options below.

Sport im Park

"Sport in the Park" is a program run by the Senate Department for the Interior and Sport. It helps Berliners to get fit, stay in shape and enjoy an active summer. All of the offered courses are free though you can support the clubs with donations. They offer for example general fitness courses, Qi Gong, Ball Games, Walking, Dancing, Yoga, and even Kung Fu and TaiChi.

All courses are listed on this website: <https://stadtbewegung.de/map/>

Of course, there are more options in summer, but also some during autumn and winter.

Ball Games

Table Tennis

Almost every playground and park has one or multiple table tennis tables. Someone did the work and collected all of them on this Ping Pong Map <https://pingpongmap.net/>

Tennis Courts Harbigstraße

📍 Tennisplätze Harbigstraße, Harbigstraße 34, 14055 Berlin (Maps)

The tennis complex near Teufelsberg has four synthetic tennis courts which can be used free of charge from the beginning of May to the end of September, depending on availability.

Registration required! Check the link for contact details

Chapter 05

Roller & Inline Skating

Skating Rink and Market in Steglitz

Every Thursday

6pm-11pm

Zik (Zentrum für Internationale Künste), Walther Schreiber Platz 1, 12161 Berlin (Maps)

Every Thursday the ZIK is transformed into a skate market. Beginners or pros, young or old, there is something for everyone here.

Experienced workshop leaders will teach you the basics so you can glide safely across the dance floor. After the workshop you can put your skills to the test in the free skating area.

You can rent skates from us or bring your own skates or inline skates!

<https://zeitistknapp.de/eventkalender>

Skating Locations & Routes

If you are searching for skating routes, you can find some inspiration here:

<https://www.visitberlin.de/en/blog/skatestrecken-berlin>

The Tempelhofer Field is most famous for its skating community, so if you are looking for new skating friends, this is probably the best place to go. They even have a half-pipe for the brave ones.

Hiking

Since Hiking is one of the most popular activities on Meetup, I thought I'd include it here. A lot of friends keep telling me about their hiking experiences. You can find all the hiking events via this link: https://www.meetup.com/de-DE/find/?

keywords=Hiking&source=EVENTS

For planning your routes, this app was recommended to me:

<https://www.komoot.com/>

So if you want to plan your own hikes, you can do so.

Chapter 06

History

If you are interested in certain historical topics, you will find below an overview of places you might want to visit. The Museumsportal has already done the job of listing all museums with free entrance. Please find them here.

One museum that does not fit the category history quite right, is the Futurium - the Museum of the Future. It is definitely worth a visit and the entrance is free.

Second World War & Holocaust

Audio Guide

Free audio guide through Berlin Mitte and Prenzlauer Berg about Jewish life in two dictatorships from 1933 to 1989 for people from the age of 14

- Kaiser Wilhelm Memorial Church
- Soviet War Memorials

The Wall & Cold War

App

The BPB (Bundeszentrale für Politische Bildung) has created an app about the Berlin Wall.

With the Wall App, Berliners and visitors can explore the German capital along the former Berlin Wall, which separated West Berlin from its environs from August 1961 to November 1989.

In addition to guided tours past remnants of the Wall, memorials, and places where the history of Germany's division was written, photos, audio recordings, videos, and texts explain the events from the building of the Wall to the fall of the Wall, the course of the Wall, and life on the other side of the restricted zone. The app also features an interactive map that navigates to more than 75 sites.

It is available in German and English.

The page below contains download links for iPhone and Android.

<https://www.bpb.de/shop/multimedia/mobil/511544/app-die-berliner-mauer/>

Museums

- Gedenkstätte Berliner Mauer
- Palace of Tears (Tränenpalast)

Memorials

- East Side Gallery
- Checkpoint Charlie
- Platz des 9. November 1989 + Bösebrücke
- Airlift Memorial

Chapter 06

History Cemeteries

Several cemeteries in Berlin have notable individuals buried there. Others are interesting for cultural reasons - and who doesn't love being reminded of their own mortality every now and then? So go there, take a stroll and don't forget to email me your experiences!

Dorotheenstädtischer Friedhof

Famous personalities such as the philosophers Hegel and Fichte, the artists and architects Schinkel, Schadow and Rauch, followed by writers and actors such as Bertolt Brecht, Helene Weigel, Heinrich Mann, Anna Seghers, Christa Wolf and many more are buried at the Dorotheenstädtischer Friedhof.

Every day

8am-Sunset (in summer latest 8pm) -> check website

Dorotheenstädtischer Friedhof I, Chausseestraße 126, 10115 Berlin (Maps)

Jewish Cemetery in Weißensee

With over 115,000 graves, it is the largest Jewish cemetery in Europe and an outstanding cultural monument. The complete register of the dead is a unique document of contemporary history.

Martin Riesenburger, later rabbi of the Jewish community in East Berlin, who survived the Holocaust with his wife, held occasional services here in 1943 and 1944 and buried people of Jewish origin who had died in Berlin.

Every day, except Saturdays and Jewish holidays

Please check website for opening hours (usually until sunset)

Weissensee Cemetery, Herbert-Baum-Str. 45, 13088 Berlin (Maps)

Zentralfriedhof Friedrichsfelde (Socialist Cemetery)

The cemetery in the Berlin district of Friedrichsfelde was opened on 21 May 1881. Since the burial of Wilhelm Liebknecht in 1900, it has become the preferred burial site for leading representatives of the labour movement.

As the last resting place of important personalities and representatives of contemporary history, the Zentralfriedhof Friedrichsfelde is a mirror of the political events and intellectual and cultural currents of the 20th century.

Every Day

7.30am/8am until dawn

Städtischer Zentralfriedhof Friedrichsfelde, Gudrunstraße 20, 10365 Berlin (Maps)

Chapter 07

Nature

Last but not least, you can find peace and quiet in nature. I include only places inside the borders of Berlin, but if you go a little bit further, you will find even more nature in Brandenburg - even reachable by S-Bahn in many cases.

Parks

Berlin is full of parks and one of our favorite activities is to take walks, do a workout, play table tennis or have a get-together with friends and family. No matter where you stay, you will have a park right in front of your doorstep. It is worthwhile to visit also the ones that are further away.

The following are the biggest and most interesting parks:

- Tempelhofer Field
- Tiergarten (Mitte)
- Treptower Park
- Mauerpark (Prenzlauer Berg)
- Volkspark Friedrichshain
- Bürgerpark Pankow
- Viktoriapark (Kreuzberg)
- Schlosspark Charlottenburg

Chapter 07

Nature Lakes

If you want to take a swim or just a walk near the water, I got you covered. These are some of the nicest lakes inside Berlin (around the city - in Brandenburg you find many more)

- Tegeler See (Reinickendorf)
- Weißer See (Pankow)
- Orankesee (Lichtenberg)
- Lietzensee (Charlottenburg)
- Schlachtensee (Zehlendorf)
- Müggelsee (Treptow-Köpenick)
- Plötzensee (Wedding)
- Teufelssee (Charlottenburg)
- Wannsee (Zehlendorf)
- Krumme Lanke (Zehlendorf)

Forests

Forest bathing is a trend from Japan where you walk in a forest and soak up the surrounding nature. Berlin offers some very nice forests where you can recharge your batteries and connect with trees.

- Grunewald
- Tegeler Forst
- Düppeler Forst
- Spandauer Forst
- Wuhlheide
- Plänterwald
- Bucher Forst
- Around Müggelsee

If you are looking for more nature experiences check out this article.

And for a social experience, I have covered hiking in the Sports-section of this guide.

Seasonal Cherry Blossom Trees

For an extensive list check out this guide.

The cherry blossoms in the north are always the first to blossom:

Wedding / Prenzlauer Berg / Pankow

Along the S-Bahn tracks at Wollankstraße there are 120 cherry trees. Follow the course of the railway line from Wollankstraße S-Bahn station towards Bürgerpark Pankow.

In front of the Zeiss Großplanetarium Prenzlauer Allee 80, 10405 Berlin, twelve trees, picnic facilities in the garden, close to the Prenzlauer Allee S-Bahn station. And free exhibition on the universe in the foyer.

Along Schwedter Straße or directly at the Bornholmer Straße S-Bahn station

On the former Berlin Wall strip between Wedding and Prenzlauer Berg, somewhat more difficult to reach in 2025 due to roadworks.

Mitte

Zionskirchstraße near Zionskirche approx. 30 trees.

Lichtenberg

Near Wartenberg S-Bahn station in Landschaftspark Nord-Ost on Hagenower Ring around 50 trees and shrubs, in Lehndorffstraße 14 cherry trees.

Kreuzberg, Neukölln, Treptow

Wiener Straße directly adjacent to Görlitzer Park 20 cherry trees.

Also cherry trees on the former border strip between Treptow and Neukölln, also accessible from Görlitzer Park, cross Lohmühlenbrücke and head south towards Maybachufer.

In the Neukölln district of Britz in Onkel-Bräsig-Straße, pink cherry trees in bloom on both sides of the road. Late-flowering cherry variety, to be admired later in the season. e.g. turn from Buschkrugallee towards Parchimer Allee. Can be combined with the Britz Tree Blossom Festival.

Longest cherry blossom avenue between Lichterfelder Allee/ Ostpreußendamm and Japan-Eck.

Berlin for Beginners Bucket List

If you are new to Berlin and don't know where to start exploring, I created a free Berlin for Beginners Bucket List with 7 simple challenges that introduce you to some typical Berlin experiences.

You will receive one challenge per day via email, so you can explore the city step by step and get to know your new home a little better.

Sign up here

Language Cafés

If you are serious about learning German, there are plenty of Language Cafés that you can attend for free or a small donation. Many Community Centers have a weekly offer and you will also find a lot of German meetups on Meetup.

This website has a whole lot of Language Cafés, so I decided I don't need to make my own list: <https://berlin-hilft.com/sprachcafes/>

Public Libraries

The public libraries are open spaces that anyone can enter. If you are searching for a quiet space to work, you could check them out. Some libraries are really pretty, like the Pablo Neruda library in Friedrichshain or the Humboldt library in Tegel. Even the university libraries are accessible for the public.

Getting an account in the Berlin public libraries to borrow books and use all the functions will cost you 10€ per year. Some links to get you started:

Miscellaneous

Shopping

Shopping is of course not free, but Window-Shopping is. There are a lot of big malls, but also small shops and boutiques that are worth a visit.

Dong Xuan Center

 Dong Xuan Center, Herzbergstraße 128-139, 10365 Berlin (Maps)

The Dong Xuan Centre in Berlin-Lichtenberg is not only home to Berlin's largest Asian market, but also a fascinating world in its own right.

Loud, lively and colourful: Visitors to the Dong Xuan Centre in Berlin-Lichtenberg enter a different world. The centre in the east of Berlin is not only the city's largest Asian market, but has long since become a tourist attraction in its own right. Six market halls sell oriental food, goods and services.
